1. There is a jamming station located approximately one kilometer northeast of the village of Drahelcice (N51/167), in a field near a wooded area. The station consists of four low wooden houses about 500 meters apart and a small guard shack next to the entrance. The station jams Western broadcasts.
2. The station is surrounded by a barbed wire fence; there is only one entrance to the area. The guard of six men patrols behind the fence. They are armed with Samopal B machine guns. The captain of the guard carries a pistol. The guards come from the 38th Technical Regiment stationed in Beroun (N50/L57).
3. There is a strict check at the entrance to the station. No one except employees who have special entry passes and members of the guard is permitted to enter the area. The six guards are on duty 24 hours a day. The guard is changed between 6 a.m. and 7 a.m. every day. Upon completing a tour of duty the soldiers are taken back to their casernes in Beroun.
